

A New Era of Gold Mining Is Just Now Under Way In Colombia!

Now, You Could Make A Fortune As This Undiscovered Company Could Be Among The Very First To LEGALLY Profit BIG From Colombian Gold!

After years of turmoil, the Colombian government is stepping in to help legitimate mining companies pull gold from their resource-rich soil.

By grabbing a plot of land directly in the Colombian gold sector, investors in Goff Corporation could be on the verge of true wealth!

Greetings Fellow Investor,

As investors, it's a daily challenge to find those true money making opportunities that often remain hidden until those that have the inside track have already made fortunes.

Normally, investors like us have to settle for scraps – even though fast double-digit profits sound nice – triple and quadruple-digit profits are normally beyond our grasp.

Not today.

“Colombia is shaping up as not only one of the hottest destinations for oil exploration and production, but also for the production of a range of other basic materials, including gold and other precious metals.”

Seeking Alpha α

Today, Goff Corporation (GOFF) is giving us a chance to profit BIG—maybe quadruple-digit sized gains – all before word one reaches the masses on Wall Street.

✳️ GOFF has just landed over 3,030 acres of prime gold land in Caldas, one of Colombia’s most prized gold sectors...

And now, they’re getting the chance to be among the very few to legally profit as they could one of the first public mining companies to be granted a rare mining license from the country’s government.

These prized licenses are the key to profiting big from what is, essentially, an untouched market in Latin America’s third biggest economy – and GOFF could find themselves at the top of the list.

That means quadruple-digit profits could be yours for the taking!

But it wasn’t always this easy to mine gold in Colombia, but that looks like it’s about to change.

Colombia's Troubled Past Is Paving Way For A Profit Filled Future

As I said, there's a new era of mining starting now in Colombia...

You see, for many years, man mines were operated without licenses, many deliberately hidden from the country's government, and for good reason...

A lot of the gold was used to finance rebels and criminal gangs – and not all by choice – many miners claim they were forced to pay extortion money to left-wing guerrillas in order to operate and have a chance to profit.

Miners say that these “new criminal bands” can charge operators of mines between $560 and $840 a month – or about 1% of the production value.

The Colombian government hopes that its new mining code will help put an end to this – and GOFF could be among the very first to grab one of these legitimate mining titles – meaning that investors who get in NOW could profit big!

You may ask why the government is working so hard to legitimize their mining industry – but the answer is simple: revenue.

According to Mauricio Cardenas, at least 40% of the 55.9 tons of gold produced in 2011 were extracted from unlicensed mines, with some estimates put the figure at 60%– that represents a lot of uncollected taxes.

The new mining laws would change that...

And by working hand in hand with government officials, GOFF could be one of the first to be listed as “legitimate” on the government's newlist, and investors who act now could ride this stock all the way to pay window.

That's how you get the attention of American mining companies looking for hidden profits...

Make it easy for them to get to it! And that's exactly what the Colombian government is doing.

What Makes Colombian Gold So Attractive?

While it's true that the social strife has kept many mining companies out of Colombia...

The fact remains that many of these companies would LOVE to get a solid foothold in Colombia for one main reason:

Infrastructure.

Colombia's existing railways and ports make it easy for companies like GOFF to not only bring their gold to port at a relatively cheap price...

But once they get there, it can be shipped stateside to the highest bidder in no time!

Believe it or not, transportation and shipping is one of the biggest worries (and costs) that junior resources companies have – but not in Colombia!

This is a huge plus for mining companies...

And just one reason why Colombian gold is looking so attractive. More profits in the company's pockets are always a good thing.

And investors like us know exactly where all those profits go... right to the shareholders! Do yourself a favor, consider GOFF today.

And GOFF could be one of the first to benefit from these new mining laws, and we'd be crazy not to be there to profit along side them!

But there's more to the GOFF story...

There's yet another big reason why I see big gains in GOFF's future...

Surrounded By Potential Majors: Who Benefits Most By Buying Out Goff Corp?

Buyout Potential?

As we discussed a little earlier, Goff Corp's Golden Glory Resources has grabbed prime acreage in the middle of one of Colombia's biggest gold sectors – but what I failed to mention is that they are literally surrounded by competition.

There are no less than 20 past or current operations in Caldas...

And any one of them could want what GOFF already has. If any one of the menter into negotiations to buy Goff Corp, it could start a domino effect of offers, effectively starting a bidding war that could send shares of this company through the roof!

This happens all the time among Jr.Resource companies...

And investors who were in early walked away rich. Here's proof...

- Newmont Mining (NEM) bought tiny Frontier Gold Inc. (FRG) for an astounding $2.3Billion!
- AuRico Gold Inc (AUQ) acquired Northgate Minerals Corp (NGX) for a knee-bending $1.3 Billion!
- Privately owned EBX Group bought Ventana Gold Corp (VEN) for a cool $1 Billion!

Buyouts like these are beneficial to all parties involved – the buyer gets a quality company that can bring even more money their way...

The bought company gets the cash...

And investors record profits that can, quite literally overnight, double, or sometimes TRIPLE their money!

Keeping in mind that GOFF could already have companies circling the mas we speak! They have prime land in Colombia's gold country, they could be among the first to grab one of the countries newest legitimate mining titles and they're surrounded by companies that could want to become the first major in the area!

It's a perfect storm for GOFF...

And an incredible profit play for investors who get in now! Don't find yourself on the outside looking in on this one! Consider GOFF today!

A New Era For Colombian Mining— A New Era For The Gold Standard

Quantitative Easing...

That's what the current administration calls the process of printing money and then releasing it into the economy.

It's purpose was, and is, to help the nation, if not the world, recover from "The Great Recession"— but unfortunately – it's only helping to worsen our bleak outlook as the money is backed by nothing.

Not gold. Not silver. Not oil...

It's backed by nothing more than the "full faith and backing of the United States Government."

“Colombian gold deposits, which enriched Spanish conquistadors more than four centuries ago, have attracted investment from billionaire Eike Batista and AngloGold Ashanti Ltd.”

BusinessWeek

Experts knew this would happen the moment Richard Nixon decoupled the U.S. dollar from gold in the early 1970s, and it's frightening to think we're witnessing the decline of American money.

This devaluation could mean the end of credit-based currency as we know it – bringing us back to what built this country into the economic powerhouse it's become – bringing us back to gold.

With each QE that occurs, our country moves closer and closer to an era of hyper-inflation – and it's pushing gold even higher – with some experts predicting targets of $3,000 - $5,000!

That's a gigantic leap!

To put it into perspective, 20 ounces of gold that's worth $24,000 today, will be worth anywhere between $60,000 - $100,000 by the time all is said and done.

That's why right now is the right time for gold.

And today could be the best time to get into GOFF while shares are potentially be at the lowest we ever see them at!

When The Price Of Gold EXPLODES – Shares In GOFF Could Soar – Transforming Early Investors Who Act NOW Into Millionaires!

Check the Wall Street Journal and it's easy to see, gold is experiencing a meteoric rise unlike any other time in history.

Like we've already talked about, gold's appreciation has more to do with the devaluation of global currencies, the American dollar in particular, than with any other factor.

Even scarier, you can see this happening every day as the dollar historically moves inversely to gold. When gold is up... the dollar is down, and this isn't good for the world economy.

Debt is on the rise everywhere – economies are growing at a snail's pace, if not faltering altogether – including that of the once thought untouchable, China.

And just like any other time in history, when currency falters, precious metals flourish, and 2013 is no different.

Gold is hitting all time highs – almost daily – and shows no signs of slowing any time soon. Meaning that predicted price range of $3,000 - $5,000 per ounce – might not be that far off!

But at those prices, regular investors like us would find difficulty finding the means to buy enough physical gold to protect our wealth...

But that's where GOFF comes in...

Because for just a fraction of the price of an ounce of gold, you can protect your wealth by buying shares in mining company that produces gold!

My advice?

Call your broker or login to your online trading account now and consider buying Goff Corp (GOFF)...

It could be the most important financial move you make this year!

Goff Corp: How This One Company Could Be Your Ticket To Unlocking Quadruple-Digit Profits!

Colombia may not be the first country you think about when it comes to gold production...

But GOFF could be about to change that.

You see, while there may be 20 other mining companies in the area, GOFF – there are very few majors! But, Goff Corp's Golden Glory has all the makings of a Potential

Major...

They've got the right pieces in play to become a big (if not the BIGGEST) player in the Colombia's new era of mining.

This is HUGE!

I'm sure I don't have to tell you how lucrative GOFF becoming n major could be for investors! We could soon find ourselves in the driver's seat as GOFF starts looking to acquire their local competition...

Maybe gather each and every company in the area under GOFF's roof? It could happen, fast! And you're getting advanced notification!

“The gold rush here is just a part of a broader mining boom in Colombia, with gold production climbing more than 30 percent in 2010 and attracting an array of fortune seekers...”

The New York Times

Don't Be A Sideline Sitter –GOFF Could Be Securing HUGE Profits For Early Investors Like YOU!

If there's one thing I can say with 100% certainty, it's that by being the one of the only legitimate and licensed gold companies in Caldas, Colombia, this company is setting themselves up to make history...

They could potentially be sitting on an incredible amount of gold – gold they don't have to pay rebels or criminal gangs to mine! That's what holding a prized mining title means!

I don't own a crystal ball, but I can tell you from experience, GOFF looks like it could be one of the fastest rising gold stocks of 2013...

I mean, by giving us the chance to QUADRUPLE our money, Goff Corp as close to a sure-fire bet as I've seen come down the pipe in a long time...

GOFF may soon find itself at the very top of the Colombian governments very short list of licensed mining companies...

And once this happens, you can bet that Goff Corp's Golden Glory will kick production into high gear – potentially pulling out titan-sized profits for investors who act now!

The best part? If gold jumps to where many experts think it will, we could be looking at almost iron-clad gains that would choke a king! Which is why you can't sit around waiting to read about this gold play in the Wall Street Journal...
