

Which Booming Billion Dollar Industry Is Offering You The Best Chance To Profit Now ?

Well, Here's A Hint – It's The “Fastest Growing Sport In The World” And It's Building Fortunes For Those Act Fast!

Fact: In all the world, no industry is growing faster (or creating new wealth) quite like Mixed Martial Arts.

But the time to get in is NOW, before the industry goes mainstream on November 12th, 2011!
Because after that day, our window to profit begins closing fast, as VC's scramble to lockout investors like us.

Acting on TKDN today ensures you'll gain a secure foothold in this $Billion and growing industry.

Greetings Friend,

No sport has ever grown bigger or faster

NO SPORT HAS EVER GROWN BIGGER OR FASTER than the sport of Mixed Martial Arts... or MMA. In 6 short years, it's become a Billion dollar industry with a global audience...

Cashing in On MMA

A global audience that's about to get even bigger!

Because just now, one of the world's biggest MMA companies, the Ultimate Fighting Championship (UFC) is taking the industry primetime on November 12th, 2011 – broadcasting to Millions live on Fox!

It's why we need to get into this Billion dollar industry now!

Because while right now, MMA isn't quite – mainstream – it's about to be, and about to be in a BIG way.

No more will this budding industry skate by completely unnoticed by Wall Street's biggest players, as it's about to get primetime callout on one TV's biggest networks...

But you can be there to profit first!

You see, while the rest of the investing world wavered on this quickly rising industry, there were a few mavericks who knew that even a small investment in MMA would pay off...

Big time.

Billionaire Mark Cuban knew there was tons of money to be made in MMA...

So did casino kingpins the Fertitta Brothers out of Las Vegas...

And while other venture capitalists knew the profit potential of MMA, they were afraid they wouldn't see their investment come to fruition fast enough, and few pulled the trigger.

Fortunately for us, that mistake is about to make us rich...

Because their hesitation has left the door wide open for us to make huge gains – a door that would have otherwise remained shut – and locked!

Hi, I'm Shawn Ambrosino, head analyst of the M3 Profit Accelerator, and I've recently discovered the company that will not only allow us to profit now from the Billion dollar MMA industry...

But will also allow us to keep making money the bigger the sport gets (some profits growing over 43% last year alone!)

The company is Takedown Entertainment (TKDN)

"I fully expect

And they're about to pop up on Wall Street's radar, so while right now, you can get shares for just a fraction of where I believe they could be headed, but that won't be the case for long!

But I'll get into exactly how they're going to that in a minute...

For now, it's enough for you to realize that the moment this expansive and rabid fan base sees people like Dana White (UFC) or any one of a number superstar fighters get on board...

The profits will be instant and staggering.

I CANNOT Stress This Enough: We Can't Wait On TKDN We're Taking Profits Fast On This One!

Remember, this Billion dollar industry is just now getting its legs underneath it, so Wall Street hasn't had a chance to get there hands on the game-changing profits MMA has to offer...

But on November 12th, 2011, they're going to get their chance.

What do you suppose will happen when they do?

I suspect those of us who buy shares of TKDN right now, could be delightfully surprised on the morning of the 13th if we wake up Millionaires!

It'll be nothing short of amazing.

However, for those who wait to read all about it on Bloomberg or in the Wall Street Journal...

It'll be too late.

And the longer we wait the less room there is at MMA to not only double again next year, but we could see it triple by the end of 2012!"

— Shawn Ambrosino, Analyst
M3 Profit Accelerator.

Cashing In On The Booming MMA Industry
What You Need To Know!

Takedown Entertainment

And the longer we wait, the less room there is at the table.

That's why I was so excited the moment I came across TKDN, because its potential to create a whole new generation of Millionaires is unprecedented!

Why?

Because they're one of the first and only MMA company to become public!

Do you see now why it's so important that we act now?

Because believe me, now that there's a pathway to MMA profits, it won't be long till our window closes fast.

Takedown's Vision and Your Pathway to Riches

Now, before I can tell you how TKDN is going to take this industry by storm...

You have to understand that right now, the world of MMA is highly fragmented.

Besides the multiple merchandising companies that seem to pop up on a daily basis, there are over 800 different fight promotions in the world...

All putting on events in their local area. Meaning on any given night, there can be several action-packed, high-intensity fights going on at the same time all over the globe.

The problem?

Most of these companies get little to no coverage, other from the fans in attendance that night who get to see the spectacle live...

Meanwhile there are literally Millions of fans around the world that are hungry for MMA, and would be willing to pay top dollar to watch these modern day gladiators go toe to toe...

And that's Millions, if not Billions left on the table!

This is the problem that Takedown Entertainment is going to fix!

You see, TKDN has the connections and resources with major broadcasting and pay-per-view avenues that could ensure that any MMA company affiliated with Takedown would not only gain coverage...

But get a piece of the profits.

And by consolidating and signing licensing agreements with many of the 800 plus individual fight companies under the Takedown banner, everybody wins!

The companies win by getting world-wide exposure and access to Millions in advertising revenues, the fans win by getting to see the fights they want to see, TKDN wins by being the conduit for all of this to happen, and most importantly...

The shareholders win as they get to profit big as Takedown potentially snatches 10%, 30% or even 50% of the MMA market!

Now, more than ever, investors are looking for ways to profit from this burgeoning sport, and that's exactly why we have to act now!

Because when word of TKDN finally does hit the Street, we could be looking at an all out feeding frenzy!

Why Takedown's MMA Blitz Means $$$ In Your Pocket

As I've already told you, MMA is the fastest growing sport in the world...

And Takedown's licensing agreements with many of the major fight companies could be offering us the best way to take advantage of this budding sport's incredibly fast rise to immense popularity.

"Cuban sees bright future for MMA"

— ESPN, on
Billionaire Mark
Cuban's MMA
business venture.

However, if there was one drawback to MMA, it would be it's lack of coverage on the #1 name in sports broadcasting, ESPN.

The reason?

The major promotions such as Strikeforce and UFC have signed contracts with their own networks, and ESPN gains nothing from covering MMA events.

You see, ESPN covers all the other major sports because they have signed contracts to broadcast certain games which pay them incredible sums of money, and as of games which pays them incredible sums of money, and as of right now, no MMA company has signed any agreement with the sports news juggernaut.

And if you don't think ESPN wants to get their hands on those MMA profits, you'd be sorely mistaken...

And while MMA's primetime broadcast will open up Wall Street's eyes, so too will it sweeten the deal for TKDN...

As they can offer ESPN two-hours of weekly content of high-quality fights, making them the sports broadcaster's best (and, and in my opinion, their only) bet to get their foot in MMA's door.

A signed broadcasting contract with ESPN could mean Millions in sponsorship dollars for Takedown...

As well as a huge jump in share prices the moment the ink on the contract dries.

Early shareholders could watch their shares double, triple or even quadruple as constant ESPN coverage would push them into the mainstream.

But that's just the beginning of Takedown's MMA blitz...

Because even though an ESPN contract could be just around the corner, there's another lucrative broadcasting deal that could mean even more for TKDN's shareholders.

PPV: Or How Millions Turn into Billions

Pay per view television has come a long way from the days of closed-circuit broadcasts of major title fights...

It's now a multi-Billion dollar endeavor.

To give you a sense of the amount of money that TKDN could take in from these events, let's take a look at how well the UFC did just in 2010...

In 2010, Zuffa, The UFC's parent company held 16 pay per view events, with a grand total of a rounded 9,145,000 buys...

At an average of $44.95 per event, we're looking at a knee-bending total of $411 Million brought in.

This $411 Million doesn't count sponsorship money...

Nor does this amount reflect what the company brought in through the gate at the event...

This is simply how much they grossed in pay per view

"Everything we do is for PPV."

— Lorenzo Fertitta,
Co-owner of The

dollars.

$411 Million is a lot of cheddar.

It's an even more amazing number when you keep in mind that just the year before, their pay per views brought in $285 Million...

That's a 43% spike in less than 1 year!

Now, I'm not saying Takedown is going to match this almost half a Billion feat over night, but if they do just a quarter of this business, at ½ the price, Takedown would be looking at a yearly intake of $102.75 Million!

That's just in pay per view dollars...

Hitting $100 Million is easily doable for TKDN, as they have the resources to provide incredible events, while pulling from a talented pool fighters from all over the world.

However, at the speed at which they're signing agreements it's more realistic to say shooting for half instead of a quarter...

Which means that Takedown could be looking at bringing in over $205 Million in annual pay per view buys!

For shareholders, this kind of revenue could do more than just shoot up in price – it's not hard to imagine a healthy dividend being paid – especially as Takedown signs more and more companies.

Can you see why I'm so excited about bound-to-explode TKDN?

Blood, Sweat & Cheers: TKDN Offering You 3 Ways to Profit

Three ways to profit?

Yes! We've already talked about two of them...

The first being a possible big-dollar broadcasting contract with sports-juggernaut ESPN...

The second way is by having the capability to bring in over $205,000,000 in annual pay per view buys annually.

But there is yet another way for shareholder in TKDN to profit from the budding Billion-dollar MMA industry...

And that's those highly sought after sponsorship dollars.

Big name companies like Burger King, Bud Light and Harley Davidson have paid Millions to have their logo displayed prominently on a UFC fight canvas...

Cashing In On The Booming
MMA Industry
What You Need To Know!

Takedown Entertainment

Which almost seems like free money I know, but they're leaving much more money on the table..

As the UFC is missing out on countless Millions by "hamstringing" themselves by only courting American companies.

TKDN doesn't have this problem.

Because Takedown will have fights from all around the world, the company could very well entice Billion dollar foreign companies to sponsor events in order for the exposure to a worldwide audience.

These companies would have no problem paying top dollar to be seen in markets they otherwise wouldn't have access to.

Could you imagine what would happen if Takedown can sign deals with the biggest companies in Australia, Europe or Japan?

It could cement Takedown's domination of worldwide MMA as well as secure yet another revenue stream for TKDN – meaning the real winners in this deal would be early investors who can get it at what could be the lowest price we ever see these shares at.

Your Bottom Floor Entrance into a Billion Dollar Industry

The Bottom Floor...

The proverbial "Promised Land" for anybody looking to make huge profits by investing in a surefire winner at the lowest possible price.

While many of us have heard about this mystical realm, very rarely are we presented the chance or the opportunity to even see the bottom floor, let alone get a chance to put our feet on it.

However, TKDN turns this myth into reality...

Because by investing now you're doing more than getting in on the bottom floor of an incredibly lucrative business, you're entering into a booming industry that is just now starting to get its legs underneath it.

Imagine being able to get into the steel industry before Andrew Carnegie sold his company to US Steel...

Or imagine getting into oil just as the Rockefeller's were building Standard Oil into the economic powerhouse it became?

But that's exactly what you can do by buying shares of TKDN today!

Right now, the door to the bottom floor to both this company and industry are open to you – all you have to do is take the first step.

But remember, after November 12th, 2011...

This all changes.

Place yourself among the elite before they get a chance to freeze people like us out!

My advice is for you to contact your broker or logon to your electronic trading account right now and consider snatching up as many shares of TKDN as you can.

A High-Priced Buyout From The UFC?

In the budding sport of MMA, there isn't a bigger name or company than the Ultimate Fighting Championship – the UFC.

The UFC is the flagship of mixed martial arts, and it's because of this hyper-popular company that the sport has reached the heights that it has.

But there is one thing this powerhouse profit making company doesn't like – competition.

UFC's management has taken two stances on dealing with the other fight promotions who start muscling in on their territory...

The first way is by an all out assault on their rivals business.

The UFC has been known to show free events on the same night that an up-and-comer has a big card scheduled – in order to snatch as many of the casual fans away from their lesser known competitor.

It's just smart business, as the UFC is the #1 name in MMA and will get even bigger when they go primetime in November.

However, it's the second way of dealing with competition that should have investors ready to snatch up as many shares of TKDN as they can...

"I fully expect
MMA to not only double again

And that's the high-priced buyout, because you see, the UFC buying out TKDN isn't exactly unprecedented, they've done the exact same thing before...

A small, California-based company called World Extreme Cagefighting started gaining popularity by putting on quality events during the first half of the 2000's

next year, but we could see it triple by the end of 2012!"

— Shawn
Ambrosino, Analyst
M3 Profit Accelerator.

Their success caught the eye of UFC's management team, who in 2006, decided the best thing to do was to buy the company – which they did.

By being considered a "sister" promotion, the now defunct WEC gained all the privileges of having the UFC behind it, while the owners profited nicely, they also continued to get paid by the company as they were kept on as co-General Managers.

But here's what's amazing...

The WEC didn't have a signed ESPN broadcasting contract, nor did they have the inroads laid to put on those multi-Million dollar generating pay per view events.

Can you imagine how lucrative Takedown Entertainment would look to the UFC when they could bring two moneymaking ventures to the table such as a signed ESPN contract or $205 Million in pay per view buys?

The upside for early investors in TKDN for a deal like this is astronomical, and could have them walking away from the table veritable Millionaires.

And with shares of TKDN trading now at just pennies on the dollar, Takedown could be the most profitable stock you've ever bought.

Takedown Entertainment and the "Snow Ball" Effect On Your Profits

A signed ESPN contract, $100 Million in pay per view buys, sponsorships from Billion dollar foreign companies, a high priced buyout...

These are all very lucrative avenues that TKDN could be offering to us right now. But...

This is just a drop in the bucket, as the more companies that sign on with Takedown, the bigger the company grows, and the more opportunities to profit.

I mean, we've talked about Australia, Europe and Japan and their different fight promotions...

But we haven't even touched on Canada, South and Central America or even the Middle East!

You see, the more foreign companies that sign on with Takedown, the bigger their audience becomes, which could mean:

- Local sports channel broadcasting contracts in foreign markets
- $300 - $500 Million in pay per view buys
- Even more sponsorship money from foreign Billion dollar advertisers...
- And an even higher-priced buyout!

All this makes TKDN the proverbial profit “snowball” as the more companies that Takedown absorbs, the more money it makes the company, and the higher the price of the stock goes!

What this means for you is that you can sit back and watch as the shares you can get today for pennies on the dollar soar, allowing you to walk away from the table richer than you’ve ever imagined.

Now’s The Time! VC’s Working Tirelessly To Lock Us Out of MMA and the Big $$$

The countdown has begun for November 12th...

As we speak, venture capitalists are working hard to secure as much of the booming Billion dollar MMA industry as they can, effectively freezing out people like you and me in hopes of locking in profits before MMA goes primetime.

But we can beat them to punch...

By getting into TKDN now, you’re securing your spot on the ground floor as Takedown – and the entire MMA industry itself – grows into a profit juggernaut like no sport has ever done before.

But waiting is not an option!

If you want to secure your slice of this Billion-dollar pie, you need to consider calling your broker, or logging on to your e-trade account, and grab as many shares of TKDN as you’re comfortable with.

Because in just a few months time, it may be too late!

Secure your future and lock in your chance to profit now from the MMA boom, get into TKDN today!

Grab TKDN Now Before They Grab Up to

10% of the Billion-Dollar MMA Market

I'm stating this right now as clearly as I can...

I believe that TKDN is the best way for us to profit from the booming MMA industry.

By giving us 4 ways to profit, Takedown Entertainment looks to be a huge winner as they could easily snatch 10% (or more!) of the MMA market.

I can't urge you enough to get in on this all-but-guaranteed profit producing company now, because come November 12th, 2011 our chance to profit huge will be reduced...

Drastically.

With MMA booming and venture capitalists trying to freeze us out, there's never been a better time to invest in a budding industry... And there's never been a better time for us to grab TKDN.

With shares trading for just pennies on the dollar, we may never see the stock at this price ever again.

Consider buying TKDN today.

Happy Trading!
